NOTE: You need to have QT4 installed!

To run the program, there is an included executable. All you would need to do is run it from the appropriate directory using ./js

To create a makefile, you can run qmake js.pro. You then can compile the program using 'make'.

Once the program opens, you just type the word in the left-hand text entry box and click “solve!”